

SUBJECT CARD

1. Basic information

Subject	International Military Relations
Faculty	Faculty of Law
Field of studies	International Relations
Specialization	international business
PRK level	6 PRK
Education level
Form of studies	full-time studies
Group of activities	—
Number of ECTS points	4
Type of subject	obligatory
Total number of hours	30 h
Didactic cycle	2022/2023 winter
Academic semester	2
Academic year	1
Education profile	general academic
Year of implementation	2022/2023
Language of instruction	English
Teacher(s)	dr Natalia Adamezyk

Semester, number of ECTS points, type of subject, number of hours

Semester	Lecture
2	30 godz. 4 ECTS

2. General objectives

C1	The aim of the course is to gain knowledge on the armed forces and their significance for the states foreign and defence policy. Consequently, the student will learn the basic terms in this area and will have knowledge about the role of military power in international relations. They will understand its importance for the implementation of the states interest. Highlighted are forms of military cooperation in the contemporary world.
-----------	---

3. Introductory requirements

No preliminary requirements

4. Learning outcomes

W1	Knowledge: The student knows the basic concepts related to state security and power projection. Is able to describe the role and importance of the armed forces in the state security system and their use in international relations. Student has knowledge about the classification of armed forces and their evolution, and is able to characterize the forms of military cooperation between states. In addition, student can characterize the most important challenges in the area of military relations between countries, indicate the causes and effects of both cooperation and competition in the military area in the world.
U1	Skills: The student is capable of analysing the chosen examples of use of armed forces and is aware of the relations between the military power of the state and its position in international relations. Student can appreciate the significance of both bilateral and multilateral military cooperation.
K1	Social competence: The student realises the significance of armed forces for the states and international security. Students are aware of the need to constantly observe the development of military relations between states to have knowledge of the international challenges in this area.

5. Course program

Lecture (30 h)

Code	Detailed description of the topic blocks (semester: 2)
Wyk1	W1 The place of military relations in the field of international relations: the issue of force and violence in international relations. Actors of international military relations; forms of international military relations; methods used by states and organizations in military relations; mechanisms of international military relations W2 The role of the armed forces in national and international security. The types of armed forces and the states control of the military. Types of the use of armed forces in the contemporary world (armed conflict, armed interventions, war, peacekeeping and stabilisation operations). The armed forces of selected European and non-European states W3 Forms and evolution of military cooperation: the League of Nations as a precursor of a collective security system; universal security system within the UN; UN evolution after the Cold War. W4 Institutionalization of international military relations: creating a regional security organization after World War II; characteristics of political and military pacts (ANZUS, SEATO, CENTO, CSTO, NATO, EU); The role and principles of operation of NATO and the EU in the post-Cold War period. W5 Arms race - definition, determinants; dynamics of the arms race on the example of nuclear weapons; The proliferation of weapons of mass destruction W6 Arms control and disarmament in the post-Cold War era: definitions of arms control and disarmament; basic concepts in arms control; basic disarmament agreements W7 International Arms Trade and Transfer of Military Technology in the World: arms industry and arms trade in selected countries W8 The challenges facing the armed forces in the 21st century: modern wars (hybrid wars, proxy wars, cyber wars) - examples; armed forces in humanitarian crisis W9 Case study the use of the Armed Forces as a tool in the national foreign and defence policy of Poland.

6. Didactic methods

Lecture
M6	Discussion
M17	Multimedia presentation
M20	Lecture

7. Student workload

Number of hours under supervision	Student workload
-----------------------------------	------------------

Lecture	30 h
Including e-learning:	0 h

Student's own work
zapoznanie się z literaturą, Praca własna studenta	70 h

Total workload
Total number of hours for the course	100 h
Total number of ECTS points	4 ECTS

8. Conditions for course completion

Course completion criteria

One-choice test . The final grade will be based on test results where good answers on at least 50% level for examination questions are required.

Lectures (Final exam / Final pass)
Grade 5:	at least 90% of good answers
Grade 4,5:	at least 80% of good answers
Grade 4:	at least 70% of good answers
Grade 3,5:	at least 60% of good answers
Grade 3:	at least 50% of good answers

9. Literature

Basic literature

1. M. Pruinsk, Dilemmas of international military relations? [in:] Współczesne wyzwania teorii i praktyki bezpieczeństwa ed. by Sławomir M. Mazur, Monika Ostrowska, Kraków, 2016, Oficyna Wydawnicza AFM KAAFM
2. Mary Kaldor, New and old Wars : [organized violence in a global era], Cambridge, 2012, Cambridge
3. H. Müller, C. Wunderlich (ed.), Norm dynamics in multilateral arms control : interests, conflicts, and justice, Athens, London, 2013, The University of Georgia Press

Supplementary literature

1. The Institute for Strategic Studies, The Military Balance 2019, London, 2019, The Institute for Strategic Studies
2. SIPRI Yearbook 2019, 2020, Oxford
3. Foreign Policy Analysis (<https://foreignpolicy.com>)

11. Information about academic teachers

The person responsible for the card

dr Natalia Adamczyk (e-mail: nadamczyk@uafm.edu.pl)

Teacher(s) conducting the subject

dr Natalia Adamczyk (e-mail: nadamczyk@uafm.edu.pl)