2. General objectives

C1	This course aims to present to the students the problem of using violence in international relations at theoretical and practical levels. The purpose is to highlight the causes and consequences of political violence and its different forms in history and the age of globalization. The main questions addressed to the students will focus on terror from above or state terrorism and terror from below or dissident terrorism. The first form will be discussed in terms of the concept of national security, and the second one - in terms of an individual or group's attempts to shape alternative identities.
